Money, money, money, sweeter than honey... Apna sapna, money money...human imagination knows no bounds when it comes to the subject of money.

But then money is not everything, and one needs to have the right perspective to deal with the issue.

This book helps you to precisely do that. The book explains the meaning of attitude in general, and how to have a positive attitude towards life to enjoy earning money.

It also explains the concept of power of money, and how this power can help us to fulfil our demands in life.

We all try our best to earn money but whether we are satisfied or not depends upon the way we lead our life.

In fact, many people with lot of money, are not satisfied with their lives.

Then, there are some who don't have money, and they don't even try to earn as they have lost all confidence.

And finally there are some who are earning money, and are also satisfied with what they have.

In the author's point of view, one must try to emulate the last category of people.

And for this, it is very important for one to understand that simply earning money is an altogether different concept from 'earning money with satisfaction'.

This book also includes 20 stories of different people who solved their problems by knowing themselves and their circumstances to get success and money along with satisfaction.

However, what follows is not that one should blindly follow one of these examples, but try to analyse one's own capabilities and work towards what suits one's nature and circumstances.

Each story has a message for the reader, by which he can improve his attitude towards life and lead a happier and successful life.
